

Flowers of the Field

Original: Acrylic and Alcohol Ink on Acrylic textured board

8 x 10 (Prints Available)

Sherri Weeks

The grass withers, the flower fades, but the word of our God stands forever.” Is. 40:8

While painting these beauties I was playing with some new alcohol ink and how it flows with the acrylic. Flowers began to form and I loved the way they were subtle yet beautiful. I think that's the place where God speaks to us in the quiet stillness of His beauty. He does not usually speak in a big loud voice but in the subtleness of who He is.

The wonder of His creation always points me back to Him! God is the creator of all beauty!

I am so grateful to be a part of His creation.