While traveling to South Africa and while live painting during a worship conference the Lord showed me a horse with many colors. The wild mane and free spirit it signified brought an excitement in my own spirit as I painted. The Lord spoke to me and said Release your inner wildness. It's ok to be who you are! Don't hold back and don't relent as I call you forward! Nothing can hold you back from the call of God on your life!

Let go and let God move you into all He has for you!!

Be wild for Him!
